A LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

Dear Friend,

As we embark on The Cabbage Patch's 110th year of empowering youth and families, I am grateful for your faith. Thank you for your faith in the children of The Patch, who inspire us with their stories of perseverance and redemption. Thank you for your faith in the Board and staff of The Patch, who prove themselves to be good stewards of your generous donations time and time again. Not least of all, I thank you for your faith in me as I learn from The Cabbage Patch's past while leading the organization into the future.

As we sent this Annual Report to print, we were grappling with the implications of COVID-19. In April 2020 alone, we gave out 5 and a half times more food than we usually do in an average month. The families we serve have been overwhelmed with job loss and financial burden. The long recovery process has only just started, but still I have faith.

Your support has put The Cabbage Patch in a good position to deal with crisis situations. The Patch was there for people during the 1918 influenza epidemic; the Great Depression; 9/11; the Great Recession ; and we will persevere through the age of COVID-19. Thank you for providing stability to our families in a time of great uncertainty.

-Rev. Dr. Corey G. Miller, Executive Director

Dr. Corey Miller with Patch Parents Tonya and Mack

“Do a little bit of good wherever you are; it’s those little bits of good put together that overwhelm the world”.
— Bishop Desmond Tutu

MEET COREY!

We are so excited to have our new Executive Director on board! Rev. Dr. Corey Miller comes to The Cabbage Patch from the Boys and Girls Clubs of Kentuckiana, where he served as Vice President of Development and Communications. Before relocating to Louisville from North Carolina, he served as Executive Director of Smart Start and Director of Philanthropy at Crisis Control Ministry before being appointed Executive Director of Development and the Foundation for Forsyth Technical Community College. He holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Sewanee: The University of the South, a master's degree in public administration from the University of Kentucky, a master's degree in divinity from Duke University and a Doctor of Ministry from Drew University.

Corey is an ordained Elder in the United Methodist Church and served for eight years as an Associate Pastor in the Western North Carolina Annual Conference. Currently, he is a member of Christ Church United Methodist here in Louisville. Corey is married to Elizabeth (Beth) Miller, a medical physicist with Norton Cancer Institute, and their son, Caldwell, is a recent graduate of Rhodes College and newly commissioned officer in the U.S. Navy.

We Asked Corey:

If you could pick one person, living or dead, to have a conversation with, who would it be?

I would be very interested to have a conversation with Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. He was a talented leader on political, social, and spiritual levels. I would like to get his impression of the current environment and his perspective on what he considers the most important aspects of leadership.

What do you see as your greatest professional accomplishment?

My greatest professional accomplishment occurred when I was at the Foundation of Forsyth Technical Community College in North Carolina. I came into the lead advancement role in a capital campaign at the 60% mark and helped raise the remaining $8 Million in one year. Our motivation was the impact of the new opportunities for our students.

Tell us about a significant role model or mentor in your life.

A significant role model for me was my grandmother, Louise. Through our interactions, she helped me to gain a larger view of the world. She believed in open and honest conversation and modeled the unconditional love that I strive to give to my family. When I read about Louise Marshall's strong will, it reminds me of her!

What is your favorite book you have ever read?

I am an avid reader, so it is difficult to select one, but it would have to be What's So Amazing About Grace by Philip Yancey. Yancey's message is that Christians should be best known to the world by their love of neighbor, and offer grace easily to others. His book is both powerful and prescriptive, and suggests a positive way forward.

WHEN IS THE BEST TIME TO DONATE TO THE PATCH?

January

Make it a part of your New Year's resolutions to support The Patch year round. We make it easy with automatic recurring donations! Just think... a $35 per month gift turns into more than $400 invested in life-changing programs!

March

Remember during March Madness that basketball isn't all about who wins or loses... athletic programs at The Patch teach perseverance and teamwork! A gift to our Recreation Program is a slam dunk!

May

Children who don't participate in structured programs when school is out over the summer are at risk for educational regression. When you make a gift in late spring and summer, you are helping to support summer camps that exercise young minds!

August

It's back to school time! Many College Scholars may be headed to campus for the first time. School supply lists are long and costly. When you make a donation, you help provide school supplies and academic case management to students in need.

November

Holidays are full of joy, but they can also be full of stress for low income families. Consider a Christmas gift that helps put food on tables and gifts under trees. Many parents have been moved to tears by the generosity of donors like you.

“COLLEGE IS A BETTER CHANCE AT A BETTER LIFE!”

Teen Debate Club is a new initiative in the Educational Opportunities Department that seeks to develop public speaking, reasoning, and argument-building skills in teens. Recently, we took a break from debating current event topics to have a discussion-based session. The teens present were asked to discuss their future plans and to reflect on the personal challenges that might stand in the way of these plans. In attendance were three members who have participated in many college prep programs at The Cabbage Patch.

Laron, Tamon, and Jamiah at first seemed lackadaisical about participating, which threw them in sharp contrast to another young man who was more than willing to express his point of view. When asked to share, Derrick, a 10th grader, readily confessed that he hated school and regularly missed class. He felt that college was unnecessary for him as he knew many people who made money and had not gone to school. Tamon chimed in that college is not a guarantee of success, but that it definitely helps, and Jamiah agreed. “Why set yourself back?” Laron questioned, “College is a better chance at a better life.”

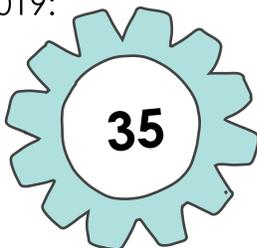

The debate lasted until the end of the hour with Tamon and Laron offering a compelling argument for college. Though Derrick will still need to be fully convinced, the sight of two peers passionately extolling the benefits of college demonstrated the impact our college prep programs have on our youth.

Thank you for helping to create positive peer groups in which young people encourage each other to do their best. With your support, The Patch fosters a sense of community that is centered on education!

PRACTICE MAXIMIZES POTENTIAL

Bahara is a middle school girl that has been a Patch member for several years. She has always been involved in the Visual Arts program, but has become especially invested since Ms. Bianca took over the Visual Arts Specialist position. Early in the summer, Bahara told Ms. Bianca that she wanted to be a better artist and asked for tips to practice. Ms. Bianca gave Bahara an extra sketch pad and some colored pencils to practice with at home.

Throughout the summer, every time Bahara came to The Patch, she had the sketchbook with her. By August, there was some noticeable improvement, and Bahara was announced as August's artist of the month. Bahara showed excellent focus and work ethic this summer, and a significant portion of that work is now showcased in the Mark Pfeifer & Family Gallery in the Polly Williams Art Center!

Thank you for helping Bahara develop confidence and motivation in The Cabbage Patch Visual Arts Program! We have seen time and time again that quality teachers like Ms. Bianca are key to developing relationships that keep children focused.

PRICE WEBER

Name a marketing platform, and PriceWeber excels in executing it... so they have been able to provide The Patch with videos, website updates and strategic support! We asked CEO Fred Davis to talk a little bit about what it's like to help profoundly change lives.

What makes PriceWeber stand out among other marketing firms?

PriceWeber stands out among the many other excellent marketing firms in Louisville because of its focus on producing measurable business results for its clients. Our focus on the best interests of our clients extends to a focus on the best interests of our community as well. We give away $400-600,000 in marketing services each year to fully or partially pro bono clients like The Cabbage Patch!

The Cabbage Patch serves local youth through education, recreation and family services. Activities include summer camps, homework help, athletics, arts and more. Which program in particular really stands out to you as important for the next generation of leaders?

I think I have read more than once in The Cabbage Patch newsletters that "You don't work your way out of poverty; you educate your way out of poverty." For this reason, the academic support and personal encouragement which The Cabbage Patch offers to young people from their earliest years right through college is the area which strikes me as the most important program for developing the next generation of leaders.

PriceWeber also entered a team in our 2019 Golf Tournament

Part of our PriceWeber/Cabbage Patch partnership included updates to our website to make it more mobile-friendly.

What inspires you to donate to The Cabbage Patch?

I am a Baby Boomer and many of us began as idealists who thought we could change the world for the better through protesting injustice or becoming lawyers, politicians or investigative journalists. Many of my generation have realized, far later than we should, that the only way to change the world is to change one life at a time. Louise Marshall understood this when she founded The Cabbage Patch, and it has remained true to that vision for over a century. There is probably no more effective way to make a positive social change than to donate to The Cabbage Patch, even if you are one of us know-it-all Boomers.

THE MARVELOUS MEYERS

When a Cabbage Patch supporter considers establishing a named fund, they often think about how they want the endowment to be used. Some are inspired by the life-changing educational opportunities, while others want to ensure the sustainability of youth development activities like arts and athletics. Former Board President Bill Meyer and his wife Becky had a different perspective.

“We want to be as flexible as possible as to how our named endowment fund is used,” Bill says. “After serving on the Board, I know that there are so many different expenses behind the success of Cabbage Patch programs, and we want Cabbage Patch leaders to have the ability to use their judgement as to how our funds are best used at any given point in time.”

“One moment with one child, on a particular day, can have a life changing impact. God uses these moments to make extraordinary things possible.”

Bill has been a part of The Cabbage Patch family for many years, including 6 years serving on the Board of Directors. Becky’s uncle, Don Kurfees, was the executor of Cabbage Patch founder Louise Marshall’s estate. When Bill’s client, former Board President Walt Kunau, recommended him for a Board position, he was already well acquainted with The Patch’s success stories and was eager to help change the lives of local youth.

As part of The Cabbage Patch’s comprehensive campaign, Bill and Becky made a pledge payable over several years and included part of their estate so that they could maximize their contribution to The Cabbage Patch’s endowments.

While there are several worthy youth organizations in Louisville, it was important to Bill and Becky that a portion of their estate go to benefit a Christian organization.

Would you like to learn how you can maximize your gift to the children of The Cabbage Patch? You can begin the conversation about establishing a named endowment fund by contacting Jennifer Scott at jscott@cabbagepatch.org or call 502-753-4446.

A SECOND CHANCE CAN CHANGE A LIFE

We received a grant from the Kentucky Social Welfare Foundation that is dedicated to helping with records expungement! We are so thankful for this gift that will fund life-changing work benefiting clients like Samuel.

Samuel and his wife are the parents of three children who are active in Cabbage Patch programs. Samuel's wife has a health problem that results in frequent hospitalizations, and she is not able to work. When Samuel was younger, he made some poor choices that resulted in him being arrested on several occasions and being charged with 13 misdemeanors. Samuel is older now, has changed his life and is trying to get these charges expunged from his record. Eight can be expunged for free, but the total cost to expunge the other five charges will be almost $550.

Family Development offers camaraderie and assistance so that Patch Parents can maximize their resources.

Samuel has difficulty finding work as it appears that employers decide not to hire him after they see a copy of his criminal background check. Having these charges expunged would make it easier for Samuel to gain a higher paying job and this would allow him to provide for his family. This family lives below the poverty line and is dependent on multiple assistance programs (e.g. SNAP benefits, Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program, financial assistance from local churches, Cabbage Patch food pantry, and Cabbage Patch utility assistance).

We are so grateful for organizations like the Kentucky Social Welfare Foundation that join us in seeing potential in the people we serve!

HOLLIE HUSTON

“And to those who dare to dream, of splendid, splendid, splendid things, keep them coming, make them stay, never let them fade away!” – Hollie Huston, 1992, age 13

Hollie Huston came to The Patch as a six-year-old in the daycare program. She dared to dream but had no idea just how far her dreams would take her! Hollie grew up with The Patch “legends;” Jacky Shea, Mr. Chin, Mr. Napier, Mr. Dietsch and countless other unforgettable members of The Patch community. It was a family affair for Hollie, as her grandparents were Patch members, and her parents met at The Patch. When Hollie’s grandfather passed away, Mr. Chin, Mr. Cooksey and Mr. Dietsch sat with Hollie’s family for hours, telling old stories.

Hollie received years of encouragement from our former Program Director, Rod Napier.

Hollie’s favorite memories of The Patch come from her experiences in High Adventure Club. “How many people can say they have been on a hundred mile canoe trip?” Hollie says. “We worked to earn our places on that trip, and we knew that it made each of us something special!”

Hollie showed incredible patience and commitment as she pursued her college degree while raising two children. After graduating high school in 1997, she worked for a summer at The Cabbage Patch and later found a great job at Jefferson Community and Technical College, making her eligible for tuition assistance with the University of Louisville.

When she was granted custody of a family member’s children, Family Development helped her navigate the family court system while Educational Opportunities supported her academic pursuits. Everyone knew she was in for a marathon, not a sprint. Hollie completed one class at a time at a pace that would allow her to be successful as both a student and a parent. In December of 2018, she earned her degree in sociology, making her eligible for a promotion in her career at JCTC.

“We worked to earn our places on that (hundred mile canoe) trip, and we knew that it made each one of us something special!”

We are so proud that Hollie never let her dreams fade away. Thank you for helping children like Hollie pursue splendid things like outdoor adventure, supportive community and academic success!

PICKLEBALL

What is pickleball? It's something like a combination of badminton, ping pong and tennis. The combination of fun, fitness and community make pickleball one of the country's fastest growing sports, but what does it have to do with pickles?

"Pickleball was invented in 1965 near Seattle," explains Cabbage Patch alumna and volunteer Cheryl Rothgerber. "It is rumored to be named after the family dog, Pickles, who loved to chase the ball and run off with it!"

Cheryl and her husband Art had the idea to volunteer their time teaching and coaching pickleball after touring The Patch with former Board member Pat Hayden. Cheryl has fond memories of playing basketball, softball and volleyball at The Patch as a teenager, and Art likes to tell people about how he would come watch her games when he was courting her. When Art and Cheryl met Pat while playing pickleball at the Jewish Community Center, they were excited to revisit the place where they had so many happy times during their youth.

"Pickleball requires discipline, teamwork and self-control... the game is played between the lines,' says Art. "You can't just hit the ball as hard as you can. The kids really become mindful of boundaries and developing the skill to stay in bounds."

"I have yet to see an argument...
Something about Pickleball encourages kids to make connections with their partners and work together."

- Pat Hayden, Board Member

When the children of The Patch see Pat, Art or Cheryl walk in, they drop everything and ask when pickleball starts! The games are always full, and with more volunteers, they could include even more children in the game.

We are always grateful for volunteers who share their talents and skills with the children of The Patch! Do you have a favorite pastime you would like to turn into a program? Contact Micah Wilson at (502) 753-4428 to discuss how you can enrich the lives of local youth!

Tracy's Retirement Donors (from November 1, 2019 to April 30, 2020)

In recognition of Tracy's dedication and leadership, several of his "fan club" members have given a gift in honor of his retirement. As Tracy always says, he's a "blessed dude!" Add your blessing to his legacy with a gift that helps children maximize their potential. If you want to join the "fan club" too, you can make a gift in his honor at cabbagepatch.org.

The Cabbage Patch is a Louisville charity meeting the needs of local at-risk children and families. Because The Cabbage Patch is not a Metro United Way agency and chooses not to participate in funding streams that can create dependency, such as government grants, we must rely on individual donors like you to finance our programs. Won't you please help by giving generously?
